Equine Council Youth Representative Application

The purpose of the Richland County Equine Council is to help provide wholesome and enjoyable educational experiences for equine participants of all ages, specifically the youth who participate in the Richland County Junior Fair Horse Program. The Equine Council is comprised of volunteers dedicated to improve equestrian opportunities within Richland County and the surrounding areas.

The Equine Council has space for four youth representatives. Junior Fair Board members assigned to the Horse Department are automatically selected as one of the four youth representatives to the Equine Council. In a year when less than four Junior Fair Board members are assigned to the horse department, the remaining youth representatives' positions shall be filled by application to the OSU Extension Office annually by November 1. The term of service for all volunteers of the Equine Council runs from December (year of application) through November (year of service). Youth applicants must be 14 years of age by January 1 (year of service).
